DISCUSSION GUIDE

For reflection

1. What do you think of the idea of trying to initiate discipleship conversations with interested people – not just those who've already responded?
2. Do you have a discipleship plan for new believers already? If not, what could you do to fix this? Could a recommended resource become your solution?
3. Where and when could you discuss this with and train your leaders, so you can then also train all of your youth?.

What is your action point?
